"WHERE KIDS ARE THE CENTER OF OUR ATTENTION!"

November Newsletter

Dear Center School Families,

I cannot believe we are approaching the month of November already! Our students have been very busy here at Center School taking on the ownership of their learning and becoming the life-long learners we want them to be. The sounds echoing from our classrooms resemble the sounds of students engaged and excited in a learning environment that supports all students. I am so proud to say that our students are working towards achieving the academic goals they have set for themselves. The tenacity our Center School students have is incredible, and I admire how they always embrace challenges with perseverance and hard work.

I want to thank you again for your support, patience, and cooperation in adhering to our arrival and dismissal procedures and continuing to make these busy times of the day safe for our students! As the days get colder, please make sure your child is dressed appropriately for the colder temperatures and any inclement weather we may experience. As always, I welcome your feedback and collaboration in making our community and school safe for students, safe for families, and safe for staff.

Thank you for supporting our Keys to Good Character Program. During the month of October, many of our Center School students earned a key of respect. This month students will be working on demonstrating responsibility. Please take the time to reflect with your child on how they could work on being responsible at home and at school. At Center School we have defined responsibility as: always doing your best, thinking before we act, using appropriate behavior, and taking on the ownership of your learning. November will be another busy month here at Center School. Please refer to our school website and school calendar for important dates.

Finally, thank you again for all your support in making our school community great for our students. I strongly believe when we engage in purposeful collaboration, while keeping students at the center of our collaboration, we will continue to move forward in a positive and productive direction that will best support all our students.

Warmest Regards,

Abe Ammary, Principal
